

Our Gun and Shell Trade Has Been Something Immense.

The past week. We are ready for it, and we expect to see the next five weeks (before the close of the quail season March 1) even better. Good hunters are getting the limit on quail every week. Ducks are more plentiful now than ever before, and fat. Ducks are here in good numbers, and geese are reported numerous. This is the best season for cotton tail rabbits. If you are a stranger and want to take a hunt, we can furnish you with gun, ammunition, and tell you where the game is. That's part of our business. Get our game law card, free for the asking.

HE MARRIED A FEUD

And in Defending It, Is in All Kinds of Trouble.

Carlos Herrera, a Mexican laborer who married a feud, in pursuance of its demands, finds himself facing a charge of assault in the court of Justice Burnett and when that matter has been settled it is not unlikely he will be cited to appear in the probate court to answer to the charge of contempt. Readers of The Republican will remember that a few months ago a widowed Mexican woman, who has five or six children, caused the arrest of Roberto Valencia on the charge of kidnapping her oldest daughter. It was shown at the examination that the girl had been given to Mr. and Mrs. Valencia, informally, to provide and care for and they had become greatly attached to her, having no children of their own. The mother was very poor and unable to properly care for the girl and the arrangement was considered an advisable one for all concerned. But later the mother decided she wanted her daughter at home, though the girl was loth to leave a good home for the very humble surroundings of her mother. Then the mother caused the arrest of Valencia and though the charge of kidnapping would not hold the girl was restored to her temporarily. Valencia then made application to the probate court for letters of guardianship, which after due deliberation were granted and the girl again took up her residence as a member of the Valencia family. The next move on the part of the mother of the girl was to accumulate a husband in the person of Carlos Herrera. Then the old desire to have her daughter back returned and it appears that the stepfather is more enthusiastic in the matter than anybody. Yesterday he went to the Valencia home and got possession of the girl, but in doing so it became necessary to handle Mrs. Valencia pretty roughly for she forcibly resisted giving up the child.

Later Mr. Valencia appeared before Justice Burnett and signed a complaint charging Herrera with assault. He was arrested by a deputy sheriff and his bail fixed at $50 cash, which he gave promptly and was released, promising to answer in court this morning. But he still retains possession of the girl and when Justice Burnett gets through with him it is likely Valencia will make an effort to see if the order of the probate court is a document commanding respect.

MR. E. B. GAGE AND PARTY

Passed Through Phoenix Yesterday in a Private Car.

Mr. E. B. Gage, president of the Congress Consolidated Mines Co., the Tombstone Consolidated Mines Co. and the Phoenix National bank, arrived here yesterday morning from the south in his private car Michigan. He was accompanied by Mr. H. R. Gage, of Los Angeles, and Mr. George D. Wick and Mr. H. M. Robinson of Youngstown, O., who are also interested in the operations of the companies mentioned, and Mr. W. F. Stanton of Tombstone, the superintendent and engineer for the two big mining enterprises. The party was at the Hotel Adams for luncheon and early in the afternoon left on a special train for Congress. They will return south within a day or two. They came from Tombstone, on the way visiting the Old Boot mine, owned by the Imperial Copper Co., in which the gentlemen are interested.

Mr. F. M. Murphy, president of the S. F. & P. railroad and connected with all the enterprises mentioned, and who returned to Prescott from the east on Saturday, will visit Phoenix soon in company with a party of gentlemen who accompanied him to Prescott. It is not improbable that Mr. Murphy and party will meet Mr. Gage and party at Congress and return to Phoenix with them. Mr. Murphy's guests are Mr. Wesley Paul of New York, representing the United States Investor of Boston and New York; Mr. C. E. Murphy, of Detroit, Michigan, and Mr. H. C. Smith of San Francisco, president of the Pacific Lumber Co.
